"IT IS NO JOKE NO MORE DOGTOWN"

THE REV. L. M. HALE SAYS NAME IS MOST UNFAIR.

FOURTH WARD WILL DO PART IN CHANGE

Many Stood to Hear Baptist Pastor
Preach—Funeral Sermon of Obnoxious Nickname.

"No more 'Dogtown.' I hope that none of you are here for curiosity," said the Rev. L. M. Hale at the Baptist church last night, "and that if any of you are that you will be most disappointed. For I expect to give one of the most serious messages of my life.

"I have been having a pleasant experience up here. I have been looking out over the audience and trying to see if I could pick out the 'Dogtowners' from those living in other parts of the city. And, honestly, you all look alike to me. And God is not a respecter of persons.

"This is the largest crowd I have ever seen at a funeral. And I hope that we shall enjoy the burial. But in the last rites, let us consider what the place is, what has made it what it was, and what the prospects for the future are. The history of the name is interesting, but all the people who now live in the fourth ward want that name buried."

Mr. Hale said that he had been called the "Dogtown preacher" and his church the "Dogtown church." And that he had not resented the name, but on the contrary had been most grateful for the privilege of service which had been given him. He is proud of the work in that part of town. But he feels that the name of reproach is unfair to any section of Maryville, for the fourth ward is Maryville as much as any other section.

Reasons Why Name is Unfair.

"Now, why do I say that the name should be changed? Well, it is unfair to the people of that section. It's a plain fact that many people will not live in that section because of the name. It is unfair to property owners who are kept poor because of the depreciation of their values. It is unfair to all the citizenship of Maryville which should be one.

That's all of the reasons, and I submit that any one who has a desire to play fair will quit the use of that name. Now comes the 'how.' Let us face the facts there. The fourth ward has not been and perhaps is not now what it ought to be. I have no desire to dodge the facts. It has been the section of town which has harbored the saloon and kept it in Maryville.

"But we have redeemed ourselves most gloriously. Less than a hundred men could be found to vote for the saloon which has been the great factor in making a 'Dogtown.' They have shown a desire for a change. Now I am talking to those who live in the fourth ward. 'The Lord helps those that help themselves.' I believe that with all my heart.

"It will be a great day when the saloons close their doors forever and ever. But other things have got to be done, too. Gambling and vice must be rooted out of the southeast section of Maryville with all other things which do not make for righteousness and good. Will you let me be plain?

"There are many young men of my acquaintance who are diseased and ruined forever. And they are bringing (Continued on page 2.)

STYLE SHOW FILM TO CONSTANTINOPLE

MARYVILLE BUSINESS IN MOVING PICTURES SOON.

THIS OFFICE "FILMED"

Will Be Run Week at Fern and Empire
by Marcell and Cook, Director and Camera Man.

A Maryville Spring Style Show in moving pictures will be shown at the Fern and Empire theatres in about a month. F. R. Marcell and his camera man, C. G. Cook, began taking scenes at the office of The Democrat-Forum today.

Definite contracts have been signed with four firms, the Style Shop, Bassford Cigar Company, C. A. Jensen Fur company and The Democrat-Forum. Although all lines of business are being sought, the dominant note of the film will be the new Spring Styles.

One of the motor firms will show the latest model cars, a man's clothing firm will show popular young men of Maryville in the season's latest and a dry goods firm will display what milady all over the country is buying.

Scenes of the editors, business manager and advertising manager at their desks, the woman reporter getting "personals" at the train, the "copy" on the linotype machine, the press and folder, and the newboys leaving with the papers are among the views of this paper.

Mr. Cook has been with the Mayhew company in St. Joseph as a camera man for the last year and knows the business. It is expected that the film will be an industrial feature of the business of Maryville as well as a style show. It may be shown at all the towns in the county under the auspices of the Maryville Commercial Club after it has been shown at the two theatres here.

Mr. Marcell has already "filmed" two local talent plays and success is already assured for the "style show" film of the business interests of Maryville.

Others have fought and died for our country and our new patriotism is to take this heritage and preserve it.

The petition is signed by Christopher F. Sweeney of Boston. It was referred to the judiciary committee.

Following Roosevelt's criticism of the administration for its failure to protest against the violation of Belgium, Senator Stone of the foreign relations committee offered a resolution which was adopted calling for the diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Russia and Korea during the Russo-Japanese war. DON'T FORGET—KILMENY—TOMORROW

AT THE PAY-UP WEEK FORUM

The Rev. William Moll Case Discusses "Worth-While Thrift;" S. G. Gillam Tells How He Earned First $100 and W. R. Jackson Tells of Purposes and Meaning of Special Observance.

A pay-up week forum was held last night at the First Presbyterian Church. The pastor, the Rev. William Moll Case, spoke upon "Worth-While Thrift." S. G. Gillam told how he earned his first $100 and W. R. Jackson, secretary of the Commercial Club, spoke upon the meaning and purpose of Pay-up Week. Mr. Case said in part:

"Several weeks ago we had thrift day and it happened on the day that Maryville sent out the S. O. S. and was answered by 702. This was the thriftiest thing that Maryville ever did and then came pay-up week.

"It is said the reason preachers like to talk about money so much is because it is the 'Lure of the Unfamiliar,' so on the basis of the lure of the unfamiliar in line with thrift, I will venture a few remarks.

"I was asked if I thought that it was proper to talk on such a mundane subject in the pulpit? Yes, for no man can divide his religion into parts and have one for the church and one for the world, however some men keep their religion in water-tight compartments and do not let the one percolate over the other.

"The reason the churches are called upon to take part in the important issues of the day is not to get the sanction of an issue from the pulpit for effect but because the inspiration of religion and the impetus of the pulpit and because as Henry J. Allen said in that wonderful address that Jesus Christ was the biggest business asset in the business world.

"So I will speak on 'Worth-While Thrift.' The root meaning of miser and miserable is the same. Some people are famous for being T. W.'s. However, there is a place for the worth-while thrifty. Every man should have a margin. The man worth while is not the man living on the margin but the man who has a margin.

Where Each 100 Men Come To. "I have here some statistics sent out by the efficiency system and I will ask you to follow closely. Out of 100 normal men, of 25 years, thirty-six will be dead before they are 65 years old; 5 wealthy, 5 self-supporting and 54 or 84 per cent of the remainder will be dependent upon relatives, county or state. The moral to this is if you take the efficiency course you will be one of the five who are wealthy.

"Thrift-day and pay-up-week calls to mind that some one once said that every man should make himself pay 10 per cent; in other words take 10 per cent of your salary each week or month and put it away for you owe it to yourself.

"The number of men who succeed in business, according to Dunn & Bradstreet is only 9 per cent. Now how are we going to do this? Don't all look at me. I am not an example.

"So I will talk about two philosophies, the pig trough, and the work bench. The idea of the pig trough is that all a man gets above a certain amount should be spent on personal pleasure according to the dictates of his senses or non senses. On the other hand or the work bench philosophy all the product of my labor and your labor will give us a bigger business and a bigger bench, and something better later on."

A portion of Mr. Gillam's remarks follow:

"How I made my first $100? I will not say Mr. Case kindly asked me to make a talk tonight, but rather unkindly made the request. For the first $100 that I saved was a tragedy. At a little past the age of 15 years, I moved to Maryville with my parents.

We acquired a little home and in a few months a real estate agent suggested to father that we buy a farm, and put the home in on the farm.

"The little home did not cover the farm so there had to be a second mortgage. In the deal it was arranged that I work for the agent for $12 per month, including my board.

"A certain per cent of my salary was taken out each month and applied on the mortgage, however in 18 months I had saved $100. I bought only the necessities and not a single luxury. I realized by this time that my future depended upon me. It was up to me.

"The one thing that helped me most was the fact that I had made the confession and was a Christian, on account of my belief, I would not spend money in the way the young men out of the church did, I could not be a consistent Christian and do so and I had determined to live up to my church.

"I held the position until I was 21 years old and through a misfortune to my employer, he lost everything he had and I lost all my savings, not only my savings but my position as well.

"Having acquired the habit of industry and saving, I was soon able to get a position at $35 or $40 per month and then I could save mere money. I saved several hundred dollars and acquired a small business that I could handle after working hours and soon increased my earnings to from $72 to $100 per month and I then saw that I was going to be rich.

"My savings increased rapidly and about that time I decided to acquire a wife. I had $400 saved and the lady by my side decided to make the venture with me. To the young men I will here say you must acquire the saving habit before getting married and the same to the young woman; she should know the fundamentals of business and saving.

Should Avoid Being Miserly.

"In carrying out thrift do not become miserly. Carry your part of the load and pay as you go. Do not imagine that you are acquiring the habit of thrift when you evade your responsibilities. I paid to the church from the beginning and every young man should do this.

"When I saw that an expense interfered with my saving I frankly explained why I could not take part in whatever the enterprise was. To save money I made one rule and followed it all my life and that rule was to spend less than I made. If I made little I spent less and that is my advice to you tonight. If you can't save but one dollar a month, save it. It is not the amount that counts at first but the habit of saving you are creating, and if you will put this rule into practice you will be one of the five wealthy men at 65.

"I would also say to the young men that you should beware of indebtedness. A young man with a good position, who is reliable is often offered credit in a friendly way. This is the very worst thing that could happen to him for it educates him to spend more than he makes. Credit is a detriment to any young man. So be very careful in becoming involved in debt.

"So again to the young men I would say that the three rules or habits to acquire to become successful in life are: First, become a Christian; second, the habit of industry and the third, saving."

Mr. Jackson said:

"National Pay-up-week had its beginning in the town of Waukon, Iowa, a county seat of about 2000 population at the end of a little railway in the northeastern part of Iowa. Waukon is a beautiful little city and a good business center but the people of that community are like the people of many another town and community in that some of them had, during the past few years, bought goods and secured professional services for which they neglected to pay, and had incurred other financial obligations such as church dues, lodge dues and trivial friendship loans which they had carelessly failed to settle. The habit of neglecting accounts became so alarmingly prevalent that the principal of the High school conceived the idea that it would be a good thing for Waukon to have a day of reckoning or rather a week of reckoning. The suggestion appealed to the citizens of Waukon and so the week of January 9 to 15, 1915 was advertised as Pay-up-week and everyone was urged to settle their outstanding obligations. The slogan was, 'I'll pay my bills so you can pay yours.' It was a question of reciprocity and mutual benefit. Everyone seemed to join in the spirit of the occasion and consequently all found it easy to pay their debts. As a result over $50,000.00 in old accounts was wiped off the records and prosperity reigned, for it means something to a town of 2000 people to life a debt of $50,000.00 in one week's time.

"Information regarding the success of the proposition quickly spread and it was not long before other communities began trying the plan — all with splendid results. In Colorado last year a statewide Pay-up-week was held under the direction of a special commission appointed by the Governor. After the recent protracted coal strike in Colorado there was a decided business depression as a result of the months of idleness of the thousands of wage earners. People who were fortunate enough to have money kept it in reserve and neglected to pay their bills. So a Pay-up-week was resorted to and thousands of dollars were put in circulation. Business immediately improved and normal conditions were quickly restored.

"The Merchant's Trade Journal, a business publication of prominence, made an investigation of the various local pay up campaigns and was so impressed with the notable success of the idea that a National Pay-up-week was suggested. There was a ready response from communities everywhere and so the first National Pay-up-week will be observed during the coming week.

"Credit is one of the greatest assets of our present day system of business but like many another good thing, it is oftentimes abused and overdone; and because so many people are careless about paying their obligations there are millions upon millions of dollars in outstanding accounts in the country at the present time which could be paid without inconveniencing the debtors. It isn't the person who won't or can't pay his bills, who causes trouble, but it is the vast number of small, neglected accounts, no one of which amounts to much but in the aggregate they stack up into thousands of dollars in every community.

"Our credit is national in its scope. The manufacturer extends credit to the jobber, the jobber carries the retail merchant, the merchant in turn extends credit to his customers, the doctor grants this accommodation to his patients, the lawyer allows his client a similar privilege, the minister relies on the church members to pay their dues, and even the newsboy must depend on his patron to pay for the papers received during the week.

"Consequently every citizen should be interested in a National Pay-up-week. There is scarcely anyone who does not owe an obligation of some kind to someone which could be paid if the persons who owes him would pay up.

"If the people in each community will make it a point to pay, the doctor, the preacher, the lawyer, the merchant, and the merchant will make it a point to pay the wholesaler, and jobber, and the wholesaler to pay the manufacturer during the coming week there will be more dollars put in circulation in this country than were ever started moving during the same length of time. "There is nothing compulsory about National Pay-up-week. It is simply a great big voluntary national movement for prosperity."

The Scrap Book

A Riley Retort.

James Whitcomb Riley on one occasion was an unwilling witness in a civil suit in which one witness was plaintiff and the other defendant. He didn't want to testify because both men were his friends, and besides he had an aversion to courts and trials and all that goes with them, formed when he gave up the study of Blackstone in his early manhood.

One of the lawyers in the case, a pompous fellow with a just-watch-me-settle-this-fellow's-hash bearing, became angered when Riley apparently evaded answering his questions directly. He spoke to Riley sharply: "Now, look here, Mr. Riley, this won't do. You're not answering my questions. Let's get down to facts now. You know we're entitled to know what you know about this case. You studied for the bar once, and you know law. Isn't that true?"

"No," Riley drawled in reply. "I don't know any more law than you do."

Do You Fear the Wind?

Do you fear the force of the wind,
The slash of the rain?
Go face them and fight them,
Be brave again.
Go hungry and cold like the wolf,
Go wade like the crane;
The palms of your hands will thicken,
The skin of your cheek will tan,
You'll grow ragged and weary and swarthy.
But you'll walk like a man!

Where the Plan Failed.

A white man walking along a road where an old colored man was whitewashing a fence noticed that the brush he was using contained very few bristles.

"Look here, Rastus," exclaimed the man, pausing and looking at the operation, "why don't you get a brush with more bristles in it?"

"What fo', Mistah Smith, what fo'?" returned Rastus, glancing from the fence to his questioner.

"What fo'?" expressively replied Mr. Smith. "Why, if you had a brush with more bristles in it you could do twice as much work."

"Dat's all right, Mistah Smith," said Rastus, negatively shaking his head, "but I hain't got twice as much work to do."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

ing and will bring another generation into the world similarly diseased. Now I have said that, whether you like it or not, I know that it is true, and such a moral condition must be remedied. Drunks and prostitutes must go.

Must Have More Beautiful Homes.

"There is room for more beautiful homes in this section. I live in this ward and I know. It can be made much more beautiful and sanitary. It may never be the place for the large homes of the rich, but for the homelike houses of the prosperous and well-to-do.

"Improvements can be made, even in the spare time of the property owners. Every day ought to be clean-up day. Use some paint. Clean up the yards. Build some sidewalks. I know of no better investments for a property than to build good sidewalks along the front. We who live in this ward must remove conditions as well as the name. We must make the fourth ward a better place to live in.

"Now, that's from within. How about the people without? Well, we don't want charity. We are independent. We want respect, sympathy, encouragement and co-operation. And any man who won't give that to those who are trying to live themselves is below the notice of 'Dogtowners.'

"What shall you call it? Don't call it anything any more than you do the first, second or third wards. It is Maryville. If you want to say 'Dogtown' again, better say it soon for we are going to purify it forever. We are going to remove it from our memories as well as our lips. Use street and number of that part of town. That is the way I get around.

All Boosters for Maryville. "Let's all be boosters for Maryville. Why, we can have 10,000 people here without a house being built outside of the corporate limits. Let us go forward. But we can't progress with this 'Dogtown' dragging along behind. No city can be better than its poorest spot.

"I am heartily in favor of the commission form of government, and I am sorry that we cannot vote at once. I am ready to vote for that at the first opportunity. This city is going to be known all over the country as one which stands together in one mind and one spirit.

"In conclusion, let me say that the credit for the change in sentiment in the fourth ward is not due to me. For Hale to take the credit is to rob Jesus Christ of the glory that is his. I would not for the world have the belief continue to spread that I did this.

"It is only the power of Jesus Christ in transforming men and making them new creatures that can bring about such a wonderful change. And these men who sit before me, members of my class, are the proof of it. They will tell you that they once lived evil, but that the hate of all those things came when the love of the Savior entered.

"Now, as I look at this body of men who have been so loyal to their Christ and to tell what this church has done, I say to you with all seriousness that the matter of burying the name is not a joke. Don't use that name again ever, please."

The Baptist church was packed to its limit and many stood. A vote on discontinuing the name passed unanimously. The quartet of the church sang.

ROBINS ARE HERE TRA-LA

Snowdrops Blooming at Jefferson School and Ducks Were Seen Flying Over Yesterday.

Listen, dear readers, we will tell you tales that will be of interest to all. A pair of robins were enjoying the backyard of Mrs. George Bellows' this morning, and they are flitting about with a world of confidence that spring is here. The robins are considered the standard to judge the arrival of the spring season, so it is said. We don't promise.

Snowdrops are blooming in the flower bed of the Jefferson school yard today. Miss Ada Albert says that Judge Saylor may get the blue ribbons on Buff Wyandottes, but he will have to yield the prize on the first flowers blooming this year.

And yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock two large flocks of ducks flew over Maryville, going northwest. For the other signs of spring, see the editorial column.

Careful St. Jo. Mothers Treat Children's Colds Externally

They Say Internal Dosing Harms Delicate Little Stomachs — "Outside" Applications Better.

Careful mothers everywhere realize that internal medicines are injurious to the delicate stomachs of the little folks. Still croup and cold troubles must have some form of treatment. The answer to this problem is the Southern "external" treatment Vap-O-Rub. This was introduced in St. Jo. Mo., for the first time last winter, and a number of ladies were presented with complimentary jars by their druggists on condition that they give Vap-O-Rub a thorough test. Here are the reports from several of these ladies—

Mrs. Sam House, 1206 Prospect Ave., writes—"My little daughter had Diphtheria last fall, and now every little cold she takes settles in her throat. We have thought twice she was going to have Diphtheria again, but during one of her bad spells my druggist sent me a jar of Vap-O-Rub. I used it for four nights on her throat with such good results that now I don't like to be without it. I have used it on myself and my husband for bad colds and have found it just fine."

Mrs. John Paynter, 2432 S. 17th St.,

Koch Pharmacy, Grear-Henry Drug Company.

writes: "My druggist sent me a trial jar of Vap-O-Rub, which I soon had occasion to try on my 'croupy' baby. Before putting her to sleep for the night, I applied the salve over her chest and throat with my fingers. The results proved very satisfactory, and now I would not be without it."

Mrs. M. A. Myers, 2943 Sylvania Ave., says—"When our three year old boy had a severe cold, about a month ago, I tried a jar of Vap-O-Rub. I rubbed it on his chest and let him inhale it, and he was relieved almost immediately, and got better in a few days. I think your remedy is the best thing for colds we have ever used."

Vick's Vap-O-Rub comes in salve form, and when applied to the heat of the body the ingredients are vaporized by the body warmth. These vapors, inhaled all night long, carry the medication with each breath, through the air passages, to the lungs. Vick's will be found better than internal medicine for all forms of cold troubles—from head colds, catarrh and asthmatic troubles—down to deep chest colds, bronchitis, sore throat or incipient pneumonia. Three sizes—25c, 50c and $1.00.

GOOD FOR CITY OF 7,000

GRAND JUNCTION, COLO., LIKES COMMISSION FORM.

Showed Confidence in New Rule by Voting $750,000 for Civic Improvements.

"What do we need with a new form of government?" demanded one of the most prominent citizens in Grand Junction, Colo., when several of the more foresighted citizens advocated the commission form of government in 1909. "The commission idea may be a good thing for Galveston or Des Moines or any of the larger cities where there is an opportunity for graft and for maladministration, but this is Grand Junction, Colo. We have only 7,000 citizens, and we know each other and what our city officials are doing. We had better let well enough alone."

But the majority of the citizens were legislators, not antiquaries. They heard what the commission form of government had accomplished in other cities, so they accepted it in 1909 with the intention of improving their small city.

The voters who said they were legislators were sustained when the commission form of government was instituted. The cost of the last year under the old form was $56,788.49, while in 1912, under the new form, the expenses were cut to $49,986.43—a saving of $7,000.

Along with the decrease in expenditures, the city was improved. Even the city employees received an increase of 50 cents a day. The city bought an expensive motor fire truck, installed a free system to collect garbage, improved parks and established a municipal woodpile and a municipal bathing pool.

Commission government increases confidence in the work of the commissioners. The voters at Grand Junction, at a special election authorized the expenditure of nearly $750,000 for public improvements. These constructive undertakings are not handled by contractors but by the city, supervised by the commissioner under whose department the improvement belongs.—University Missourian.

so many neighboring towns leads us to notice that the Maryville course took the safe way. That is, made the talent so good and so attractive even by paying high for it that the crowds came, bad weather or not.

It was inevitable that such magnificent weather would get the best of even Hon. Grouchy Fuller Grippe. He was heard to remark with something approaching an audible smile that if many more days were like this the groundhog would commit suicide from mortification.

That report that Barnes would make a western trip to kill the T. R. boom was "some" joke. Nothing could have been done which would have inflated it more unless the Hon. Bill would have brought his fellow 1912 steam roller engineers along with him, Senator Penrose and Hon. Crane of Massachusetts.

NO MORE DOGTOWN.

Parson Hale is dead right and the best sentiment of Maryville is back of his efforts to remove the reproach of such a name as "Dogtown" from any section of the city. Maryville is going forward and expects to go forward more rapidly.

But such progress is impossible if any part of the city looks down with cynicism, pride, or Phariseism on any other part. If you were not able to hear that serious message of the pastor of the Baptist church last night upon the change in the sentiment and principles of the fourth ward, be sure to read what is given of it in this paper today.

Then make the resolution never to use the term again and to frown down its use by others. It is the really big, great thing to do. The Democrat-Forum extends its hand to the resident of the southeast section of the city and wishes them the best of luck and good fortune in their determination to do their part in making "Maryville One."

Mayor Henry Keil of St. Louis, says he will wait until next April before announcing his intentions as to his proposed candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor. April first would be a good date for the announcement.

CLARINDA PLEASED

HERALD EDITOR SAYS 3-YEAR TRIAL IS SATISFACTORY.

OUTGROWTH NECESSITY

But the Vote of the Neighboring Iowa City Was 5 to 1 for Plan After Seven Months.

The following letter from the editor of the Clarinda Herald is another indication of the favor in which the commission government-town manager system is held in the neighboring Iowa city. It was at the request of the publishers of The Democrat-Forum.

Publishers, Democrat-Forum, Maryville, Mo.

Gentlemen:—Answering your inquiry as to how the "city manager plan" of city government works in Clarinda, would say that after three years trial of the plan, there seems to be no disposition to do differently, but on the contrary a general satisfaction with the working of the plan.

Our city government here was the outgrowth of necessity. Three years ago the city dads then in office refused to run again, saying it was the other fellows' turn to dig the graves in the cemetery, pump the city water, and bury the dead cats in the alleys. To get the right kind of councilmen we had the alternative of going to the commission plan where each man receives a salary sufficient to pay for his time, or to secure good men who would serve through patriotic motives alone by promising to have one highly salaried man under them to do their bidding in having the work done. Accordingly a set of four men consented to run, with the understanding that the business interests would back them in putting in a "business manager." This was done soon afterward by ordinance, the mayor to name the man and the council to fix his salary, thus making it necessary for mayor and council to work in unison in choosing the man.

Seven months intervened, and it was put up to the voters to decide whether to retain the business manager plan or go to commission form of government. The campaign was a hot one, but the result a victory 5 to 1 for the city manager plan, the vote standing 508 to 98.

Then attorneys doubted whether in Iowa a city has the right to combine more than one officer under the same head, the positions formerly occupied by city clerk, street commissioner, water commissioner, and cemetery sexton, all being under one head. We wanted to keep the plan sufficiently to send a bill to the state legislature, and a lobby to back it up, the Clarinda plan of city government thus being legalized in Iowa.

The results of the plan show favorably in the figures of cost and accomplishment. Formerly our cemetery was cared for by a man who sat around part of the time waiting for something to do. Now the work is done by the day. Last summer the council put the city manager on the job, resulting in the job being done $1,600 cheaper than the lowest bid. After a three years trial, it may be said that the people here are in favor of the Clarinda plan for a town of 5,000 situated the same as Clarinda is.

Yours truly,
THE CLARINDA HERALD,
Paul B. Woolson, Editor.

MANY RESIGN PLACES IN HOSPITAL NO. 2.

DR. A. T. FISHER IN GROUP

No Hope for Decent Conditions Until Governor Major and Dr. Crandall Are Out.

The state hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph is again in a great upheaval, following the hearing of charges against Superintendent George R. Thompson, by a vote of three to two Thompson being ousted. As a result, two members of the board of managers, Dr. J. A. Postlewait of Tarkio and Ed S. Villmoare of Kansas City, have resigned. Villmoare mailed his resignation to the governor Saturday. It is as follows:

Elliott M. Major, Jefferson City, Mo. Dear Sir: The superintendent of state hospital No. 2 was removed last night by a vote of three members of the board without a semblance of evidence, and by action of a member who sat as both prosecutor and judge. I consider this action a public disgrace, and therefore ask you to accept my resignation as a member of the board of managers of said hospital, to take effect at once. ED S. VILLMOARE.

Dr. Postlewait transmitted his resignation by wire. It is very brief, and assigns no reason for his act. When a reporter for the St. Joseph News-Press talked with him by long distance telephone Saturday, he said:

"In my telegram to the governor I assigned no reason for my resignation—why waste words on something that everybody knows and understands? It would do no good, as apparently Governor Major will stand for anything."

Dr. Amos T. Fisher, pathologist, and Dr. R. O. Llewellyn, staff physician at the state hospital, also resigned Saturday, as well as a number of attendants and nurses who had been loyal to the retiring superintendent. Dr. Fisher is a resident of Maryville.

Practically all of the witnesses except Dr. W. L. Whittington, who was selected as Thompson's successor, testified at the hearing that the lack of harmony at the hospital was due to the fact that Dr. Thompson had been deprived of the authority which the statutes vest in him.

It was just a few months ago that three members of the hospital board resigned, two of them, E. M. Lindsay and Smith A. Penny of St. Joseph, being requested to by Governor Major, and George B. Baker of this city resigning, as he considered the letter of Governor Major an insult to his associates.

No changes for the better will be made in the management of the institution, it is freely predicted, until Governor Major is out of office. Much of the political work connected with the state hospital is credited to Dr. U. G. Crandall, one of the police commissioners of St. Joseph.

POLITICAL NOTES.

(Democratic Press Bureau.)

The Missouri state government, made up of Democratic laws and administered by Democratic officials, costs the taxpayers of the state just one-half as much as the Republican city government of St. Louis costs the tax-payors of that city, although less than a third of the people of the state live in St. Louis. Question: If it takes twice as much revenue for Republicans to govern one-third of the people as it takes for the Democrats to govern all the people, how much revenue would the Republicans require to govern the entire state of Missouri? The answer is plain. Figure it out for yourself.

With steers selling at $8.50, No. 2 wheat at $1.41, hogs at $8.00, corn at 77 cents and cotton at 12.25 cents, Missouri farmers are not in a mood to complain of Democratic prosperity.

Democrats stand for principles rather than for men, and they stand for only those men in public life who are true to the principles of Democracy. But when a Republican politician selects a candidate he usually picks the man who has the most money behind him.

The imperative need of heroic measures for the defense of the country today but emphasizes the criminal neglect of the Republican party in failing to provide for the national defense during all the years of its supremacy. Taft's administration was busy defending the special interests, while the bellicose Roosevelt did nothing but talk.

The Globe-Democrat complains that Wilson has changed his mind. It doesn't say that he is wrong. On the contrary, it admits that he is right. But the G.-D. urges, because he was formerly wrong he has no business to get right now. That is the whole tenor of the Republican organ's complaint as to Wilson's present attitude regarding a tariff commission. For obvious reasons the G. D. cannot change its own mind. It hasn't any.

Conservation stands sentinel over the natural resources of our country, and forbids wanton destruction of forests, mines and animal life.

Conservation multiplies the by-products of industry, and changes waste into profit. It is conservation that turns rags into miladi's dainty note paper.

It is conservation that gathers together worn out garments, discarded sheets, carpets, and similar objects which have served their useful purposes. In the General's big roofing mills, these are massed, saturated, sterilized and beaten into pulp, which finally comes out of the rollers in one continuous sheet of clean, strong roofing felt.

It is then thoroughly saturated with the General's own blend of soft asphalt and coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which keeps the inner saturation soft and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to the ordinary roofing. This explains why out-lasts other roofing; also why the General can safely guarantee it for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply. Experience has proved that CERTAIN-TEED will out last the period of guarantee.

The General makes one third of all the rolls of roofing made in America. Because of this enormous production, and the economies due to cheap power, modern machinery and favorably located mills, the General is able to make the best roofing at the lowest cost.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

"NOT GUILTY" PLEA

PRELIMINARY FOR RICHARDSON ASKED IN ST. JOSEPH.

BY BLAGG AND MARTIN

Story of His Maryville Shooting as Told by Nodaway Democrat of May 29, 1879.

William D. Richardson was arraigned in St. Joseph Saturday afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty for the killing of John E. Berryman, in an office at the Live Stock Exchange, South St. Joseph, Friday afternoon. A preliminary hearing was demanded, and next Friday was agreed upon as the date.

W. A. Blagg of this city and B. R. Martin of St. Joseph are the attorneys for Richardson. The lawyers announced that they would make an effort at the preliminary to have Richardson admitted to bail. It was inferred that the theory of the defense would be self-defense.

The following is what the St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal says:

It is said the quarrels of Jack Berryman and Billy Richardson were about yard work. Richardson had told Jack what he'd do in the hog yard and Jack had told him that was his work. Rough talk followed with anger and possibly blows, which later caused murder. It is a pitiful tragedy, because both men were useful men and their differences were of no great consequence. Mr. Berryman was one of the best and most competent hog salesmen in the country. His salary was $6,000 a year. Only a few days ago he took out accident insurance for $5,000, which sum will be paid.

Billy Richardson is a well-liked man and the position he is placed in is regretted by all who know him. It is said that he told Jack Holtman that he and Jack Berryman had quarreled in the office Friday morning, and that Jack had cuffed and kicked him. Friends separated them. In the afternoon he returned to the office with a gun to fix Jack if they had any more trouble. They went in the room together and he used his gun, killing Jack. He said he didn't want to talk about it.

Former Victim Still Alive.

Charles Hampton, who was shot by Richardson in Maryville on the night of May 21, 1879, is still alive, according to a St. Joseph paper, and is living at Kellerton, Ia. The Nodaway Democrat of May 29, 1879, in speaking of the shooting of Hampton by Richardson says:

"Charles Hampton of Albany received a bad shot-wound from a revolver in the hands of William Richardson last Wednesday night. Hampton and Worth Case, also of Albany, came over to take in the circus, and that night decided to visit the house of Minnie Homan, reputed to be of ill-fame. When they arrived there, it appears that the occupants had retired. Hampton rapped on the door and called out that he wanted to see 'Min' a few moments. The door was opened by Min and Hampton was pushed away, immediately following which Hampton gave the door a vigorous kick and broke it in. It was at this time that Richardson sprang out of bed, went toward the door and fired a shot, which took effect in Hampton's neck. Hampton's wound was attended by Drs. Koch and Campbell. Richardson promptly gave himself up to the police, by whom he was turned over to Sheriff Henry Toel.

Caused by Quick Temper.

"Richardson has been in the employ of the National hotel livery stable for the past three or four years. He is an industrious young man and was generally well liked. Bill is of quick, hasty temperament, and, we learn, expresses some regret on account of the shooting. Hampton's wound did not prove fatal."

At the November term of circuit court in 1879, Richardson was sent to the penitentiary for two years, the charge being felonious assault. After he served his sentence he returned to Maryville, and a few years after worked on Horace F. Lett's farm for some time. He followed the races after that. By right living he regained and kept the respect of the people here. He left Maryville some twenty years ago and has been in St. Joseph since that time.

Alderman Yehle Dry Goods Co.

WEST THIRD STREET, MARYVILLE, MO.

The First Spring Fashions

WHAT FASHIONABLE WOMEN WILL WEAR THIS SEASON.

Direct From Fashion Center to Alderman-Yehle Dry Goods Company the Store That Sells Wooltex.

A graceful, youthful figure. That will be the aim of every woman who wants to be in style, this spring. This does not mean that women will try to look like sixteen-year-old girls.

Rather, they will choose clothes that give graceful, youthful lines, lines that indicate the natural poise, activity and attractiveness of young womanhood.

Skillful tailoring has much to do with giving clothes the graceful curves of youth. And just as the good cook requires the best ingredients for her cakes, so the expert tailors require the best material for garments that they recommend to stylish dressers.

Fashion's Prominent Features.

In suits and coats, the most fashionable features are the incurve at the waist, without being close fitting, and the sharply flared rippling plaits below the waistline.

Many jackets and coats have almost a wing-like flare. This feature is carried out in a similar way in the flared cuffs which finish the new bell sleeves.

Plain materials and checks are preferred for suits. The plain materials are frequently ornamented with silk embroidery and inlays of taffetas.

For a sport coat there are new novelty weaves of white wool and fancy coatings in navy, copenhagen, Holland blue, old rose, maize, gren and red.

Silks are very fashionable and promise to grow more popular as the season advances.

Smartest Skirts Are Short.

As skirts are all fuller, either in circular models or plaited, they give the smartest appearance when worn quite short.

Eight to ten inches from the ground is the most fashionable length. Even conservative women will wear their skirts six inches from the ground.

The new short skirts are most convenient. With trim footwear and hosiery to match, they are genteel and very pleasing in appearance.

Surely nothing can be more interesting than the first glimpse of the new spring fashions, for the coming of spring means the advent of fresher, brighter colors. Our early showing of Suits and Coats will prove most interesting after seeing only the somber winter colors for so many months.

The New Season's Tailored Suits and Coats

Have a charm all their own, and new styles were never made into more becoming garments than in this advance showing of "Wooltex" and other high grade makes.

You will have no difficulty in finding a Suit or Coat that is not only a correct expression of the season's best style tendencies, but one that is really becoming to you.

The assortment of fabrics, colors, models, and sizes enables you to choose just what you like best.

We invite you to see this early display of spring fashions today, even though not ready to buy just now.

See the first presentation of the new models:

Suits are priced at $10 to $37.50

Ice Jams and High Water Wrecks New Bridge Over Nodaway.

The bridge that was built near Skidmore last summer over a bayou of the Nodaway river and commonly called the trestle, was washed out yesterday. The cakes of ice formed a jam around the base, and, with the high water, was the cause of the damage. The Nodaway is rising today at Skidmore.

SUING ON EXCESS FREIGHT

James Blagg and William Ramey Seek to Recover Money on Shipments From 1905-07.

A suit was filed today in the circuit clerk's office by Attorney B. R. Martin of St. Joseph for James Blagg vs. the Burlington. It is a suit for $1,215, the plaintiff claiming that was the excess in freight charges of the maximum freight rate law of Missouri of 1905 and 1907.

The second count of the petition is for $350 against the Burlington by William Ramey of Arkoe. The petition also alleges that amount to be excess freight charges.

The third count is for $65 and is Blagg & Ramey vs. the Burlington.

FOUND LONG-LOST RELATIVE

J. E. Durkin of Falmouth, Ky., Wrote Asking for Uncle, John Brett, and Tilton Got Records.

J. E. Durkin of Falmouth, Ky., wrote to the city assessor of Maryville asking for information concerning his uncle, John Brett, who was last heard of in this part of the country about fifteen years ago.

The letter was turned over to E. E. Tilton, chief of police, and in less than fifteen minutes the marshal was writing a letter telling that Mr. Brett had been killed five years ago in St. Joseph. The records were found in the probate office.

Mr. Brett was a friend of W. C. Pierce and was buried by the Maryville banker when he was killed at the age of 60 by a switch engine in St. Joseph.

Exposed to Temptation.

"I hope you will be happy, Mary," said the mistress to her maid, who was leaving to get married.

"Thank you, ma'am. My young man is very steady, considering his environment."

"What does he do, Mary?"
"He's a valet to a young millionaire, ma'am."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Grateful.

"My boy," said the elderly millionaire at the end of a lecture on economy, "when I was your age I carried water for a gang of section hands."

"I'm proud of you, dad," answered the gilded youth. "If it hadn't been for your pluck and perseverance I might have had to do something of the sort myself."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Hard to Explain.

"Husband, you say you love me more than life itself?"
"I do."

"I watched you in the store today. You could raise a smile for every ten cent customer who came in, yet you seldom have one at home. How is that?"

And he hasn't as yet succeeded in framing a suitable reply.—Exchange.

The Crown of England.

From the financial standpoint the crown of England is worth about half a million dollars.

FLATTERY.

Beware of him who flatters you to your face or to one he thinks will tell you of it. Most probably he has either deceived you or means to do so. Remember the fable of the fox commending the singing of the crow, who had something in her mouth which the fox wanted.—Sir Matthew Hale.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.

WHY PRINCE ALBERT WINS

Patented Process Is Responsible for Its International Popularity.

Smokers so much appreciate the flavor and coolness and aroma of Prince Albert pipe and cigarette tobacco that they often marvel that this one brand could be so different from all others.

The answer to this question is to be found on the reverse side of every Prince Albert package, where you will read: "Process Patented July 30th, 1907." That tells the whole story. Prince Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out the bite and parch, which makes the tobacco so mighty agreeable and satisfying to men of every taste of every civilized nation on the globe.

Smokers should realize that this patented process cost three years' continuous work and study and a fortune in money to perfect. But the result has proven to be worth all that was expended upon it, because it has set free men who believed they never could enjoy a pipe or a makin's cigarette.

Prince Albert makes it possible for every man to smoke a pipe or to roll his own cigarettes. And, no matter how tender the tongue, Prince Albert cannot bite or parch. That is cut out by the patented process, leaving for the smoker only the joys of the fragrant tobacco.

It is a fact that since Prince Albert "arrived," just about six years ago, it has made three men smoke pipes where one smoked a pipe before!

Fire Does $10 Damage.

Fire at the home of Clay McCombs on North Fillmore street did about $10 damage yesterday. The fire was in the roof at about the same place a fire was discovered a month ago. A defective fuse is thought to be the cause. The house is not connected for electric lights.

Misses Mary Carson and Cora Taylor, teachers in the Elmo schools, visited with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cooper yesterday.

Walter Edward Chaney and Nellie Litten of Ravenwood were married Saturday afternoon by Judge Conn.

Miss Ula Strader left this morning for Riverton, Neb., where she will visit her sister, Mrs. G. W. Fisher.
